The 2023 State of Working America report found that the median wage for working Americans has not increased in real terms since 1979. In fact, the report found that the median wage has actually declined since 2000, when adjusted for inflation.

The report also found that the gap between the rich and the poor is growing wider. The top 1% of earners now own more than 40% of the nation's wealth, while the bottom 50% of earners own just 1%.

The State of Working America report is a valuable resource for policymakers, researchers, and anyone interested in the economic well-being of working people in the United States.
