Driven by insatiable bloodlust, the vengeful spirit found solace in the company of Bloodseeker, a ruthless mercenary known for his cold-hearted efficiency. Bloodseeker recognized the spirit's potential as a weapon, and through a dark pact, he gained access to its cursed power.

Thus, the Immortal Curse was born, a fusion of the bloodrage and the vengeful spirit's insatiable hunger. It grants Bloodseeker the ability to mark his enemies with the princess's curse, binding them to a fate that they cannot escape.

The Immortal Curse grants Bloodseeker three potent abilities that make him a formidable pursuer and a constant threat to his enemies.

Active Ability: Bloodrage

With a sinister chuckle, Bloodseeker activates Bloodrage, an ability that courses through his veins and those of his enemies. The target enemy hero receives a significant increase in damage dealt and taken, effectively turning them into a ticking time bomb. As long as Bloodrage remains active, the cursed enemy will bleed profusely, their health slowly but surely draining away.

Passive Ability: Thirst

Bloodseeker's passive ability, Thirst, fuels his bloodlust and grants him an advantage in pursuit. It amplifies the damage he deals to targets affected by Bloodrage, making each attack a potent strike. The more Bloodseeker pursues his cursed enemies, the stronger he becomes, creating a vicious cycle of pursuit and destruction.

Passive Ability: Rupture

The ultimate manifestation of Bloodseeker's bloodlust, Rupture is a devastating ability that can send fear into the hearts of even the most seasoned adversaries. When an enemy hero with the Immortal Curse debuff dies, they explode in a violent burst of crimson shards, damaging all nearby units and slowing them down. This ability makes pursuing and eliminating Bloodseeker's enemies a dangerous game, as their deaths can trigger a chain reaction of carnage.

To harness the full potential of the Immortal Curse, Bloodseeker players must master the art of pursuit and relentless aggression. Here are some effective strategies to employ:

Early Game Dominance

Bloodrage and Thirst provide Bloodseeker with a strong laning presence in the early game. By harassing enemy heroes with Bloodrage, he can force them out of lane or secure easy kills. The ability to amplify damage against cursed enemies makes Bloodseeker a potent threat, especially when paired with a support hero who can initiate early skirmishes.

Relentless Pursuit

The Crimson Crest is all about chasing down enemies and making their lives miserable. Use Bloodrage and Thirst to weaken your target, then activate Rupture to punish them for their escape attempts. The fear of being blown up upon death will cause enemies to hesitate and create opportunities for Bloodseeker to close in for the kill.

Team Coordination

Bloodseeker's pursuit abilities can be enhanced significantly with the coordination of teammates. Heroes with crowd control abilities, such as stuns or slows, can set up easy kills for Bloodseeker by immobilizing cursed enemies. Communication is key to ensure that Bloodseeker's Rupture is used at the optimal time, maximizing the impact of its devastating explosion.

Itemization and Build

Bloodseeker benefits greatly from items that enhance his pursuit capabilities. Phase Boots or Tranquil Boots provide bonus movement speed, allowing him to chase down enemies more effectively. Desolator amplifies his damage output against cursed enemies, making it easier to secure kills. Black King Bar protects him from crowd control abilities, ensuring that he can unleash his fury without interruption.

In the hands of a skilled player, Bloodseeker's Immortal Curse transforms him into an unrelenting force of pursuit and destruction. With its potent abilities and synergies, the Crimson Crest grants Bloodseeker the power to track down his enemies, drain their health, and deliver a devastating blow that sends a shiver down the spines of his adversaries.

Embrace the Crimson Curse, unleash the bloodlust within, and become a master of unrelenting pursuit. Bloodseeker's Immortal Curse awaits you, ready to sow chaos and bathe in the crimson glory of victory.
